

Football Basics and Overview

Football, also known as soccer in some countries, is one of the most popular sports in the world. It is played between two teams of eleven players each, using a spherical ball. The objective of the game is to score goals by getting the ball into the opposing team's net.

The game is played on a rectangular field with a goal at each end. Players primarily use their feet to control and pass the ball, but they can also use their head and chest. Only the goalkeeper is allowed to use their hands, and only within the penalty area.

A standard football match consists of two halves, each lasting 45 minutes, with a short break in between. The team that scores the most goals by the end of the match wins.
